

COVID-19 Measures: Committed to Our Employees, Customers and Suppliers

Camanchaca has implemented strict health measures to protect workers from the coronavirus. The COVID-19 Committee, which is comprised of area managers and advised by a physician, oversees these measures. It evaluates, controls, implements and publicizes the health measures established by the company and the Chilean Ministry of Health on an ongoing basis. Other measures include:

- Limiting facility access to personnel who perform essential functions.
- Sending home employees that are part of the at-risk group (older than 60, chronically ill or pregnant).
- Implementing a telecommuting system for employees whose duties can be performed remotely.
- Setting up health check points to take everyone's temperature as they enter the facilities.
- Implementing social distancing and ongoing disinfecting in areas where employee traffic is high, e.g. processing shifts, transportation, cafeterias and locker rooms.
- Postponing and/or canceling all work-related travel abroad or to other regions of Chile for employees of Camanchaca and its subsidiaries.
- Creating the Camanchaca Health 800-line to field health questions from employees and their families.
